

1964

THE BEACON

Foreword

"We, the Beacon Staff of 1964, in order to produce a more perfect yearbook, devote our time, dedicate our talents, and secure the blessings of memory to ourselves, and to those who will follow in our footsteps."

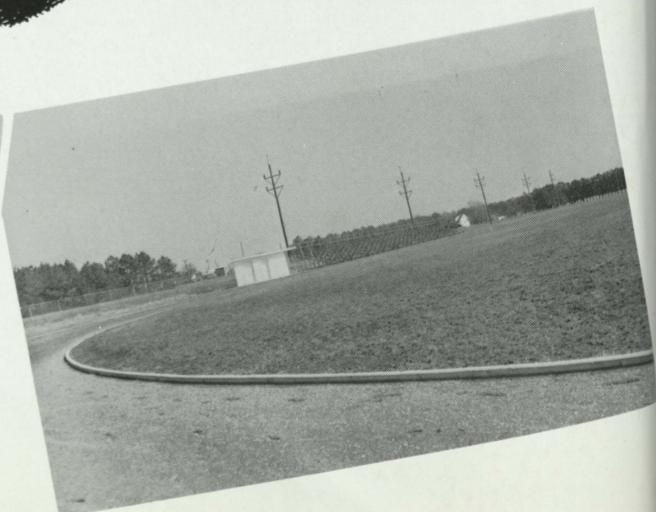

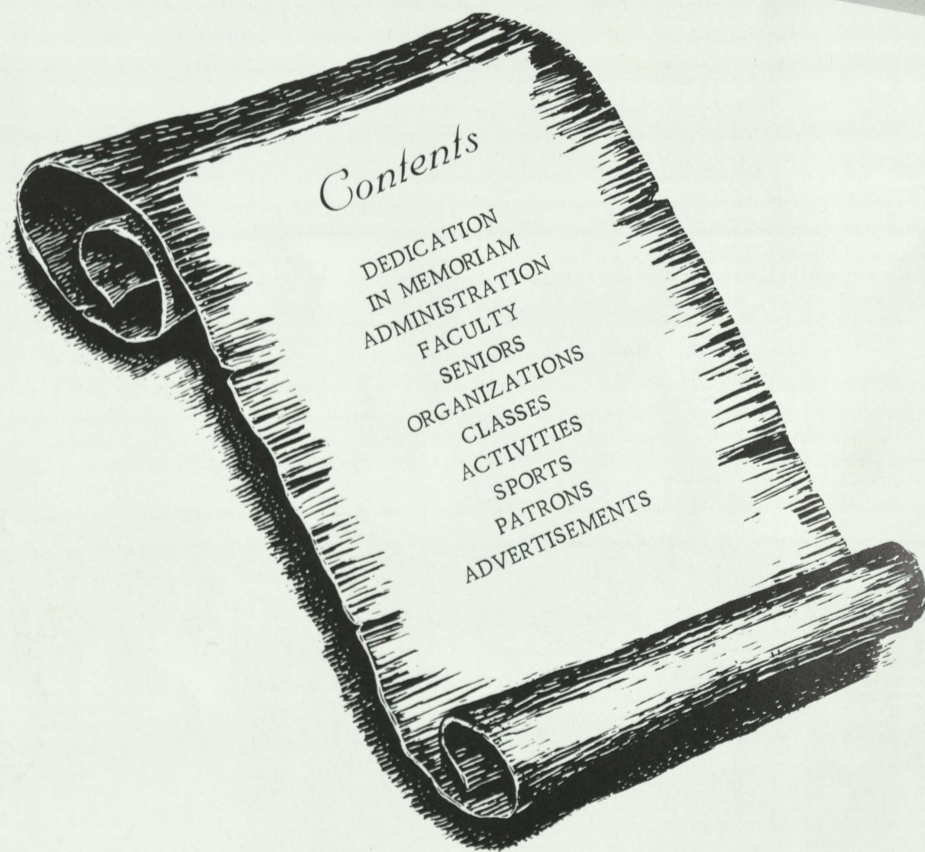

These words were silently spoken by each senior who dutifully performed the numerous tasks of producing a successful yearbook.

As we depart we cherish the memories of the joys, the sorrows, the fun and the hard work that are all a part of our experiences this past year. We share with you these treasured memories as we present the 1964 BEACON.

The Beacon of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-four

Dedication

MRS. THELMA R. WINDER

We consider it an honor to pay tribute to three of our teachers who have rendered invaluable service to us as a class, as well as to many other students.

Their interest in students and their eagerness to help them have endeared them to all who have come under their influence.

Because they have helped and guided so many, we, the class of 1964, dedicate THE BEACON to Mrs. Thelma R. Winder, Mrs. Catherine W. Parsons, and Mrs. Mildred W. Webster.

With it, we extend our expressions of gratitude and appreciation.

MRS. CATHERINE W. PARSONS

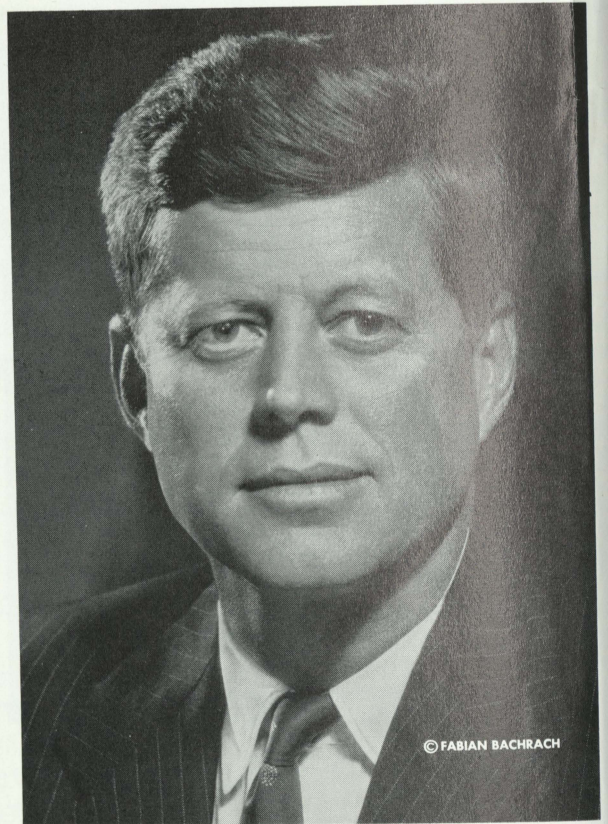

MRS. MILDRED W. WEBSTER

In Memoriam

John F. Kennedy

1917-1963

Our nation continues to mourn the untimely death on Friday, November 22, 1963 of John F. Kennedy, 35th President of the United States.

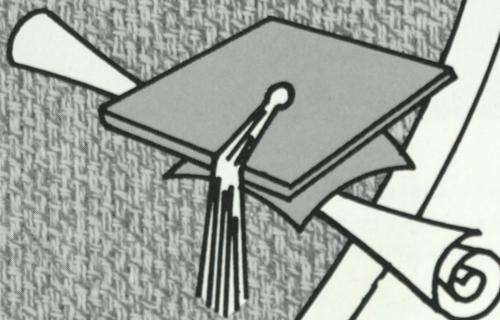

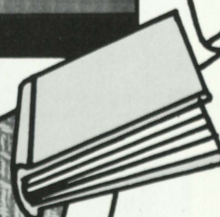

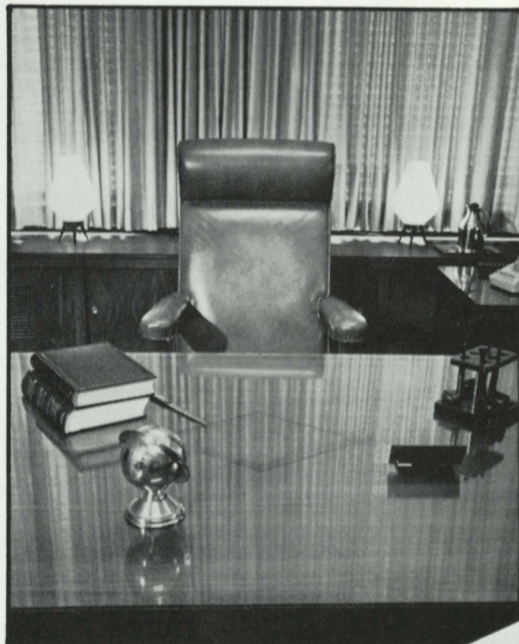

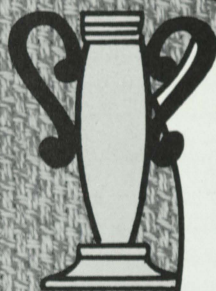

President Kennedy believed in the dignity of the individual and the right of both men and nations to be free from oppression.

He believed in peace as well as in freedom, and saw no conflict between the two. He believed in the creativity of the reality of hope. He loved life. He relished laughter and the vigorous life of the mind. He believed in thought.

He recognized obligations to people not yet born - to help provide them with a decent world.

The loss of our president is total only if we forget what he believed in and what he tried to do. The legacy of John F. Kennedy to the United States and to the world can be a great one if the people wish to be.

MESSAGE TO SENIORS

The theme of your yearbook, "Hands for Service," is an intriguing one. It is very appropriate to the age in which we live. In our everyday hustle and bustle, we are prone to forget our fellow-man and to think only of our own welfare. Service to mankind is one of the noblest objectives to which we can aspire.

It is my hope that your experience at Salisbury High School has in some measure contributed to the growth of your "Hands for Service" and this will be one of your guidelines for living. It is also hoped that growth in this fact of life will continue as you take your place in our complex civilization.

Best of luck to each of you.

Randolph L. Brooks

MR. WILLIAM F. WALLER

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 1964!!!

What an honor to commend each of you on a job well done! Your capable, patient, and persevering teachers have helped you thus far on your way. They have guided your intellectual growth and aided in the initial preparation for your varied and sundry vocational choices. You have been handed the torch of inspiration. May you keep it forever alight!

Now that each one of you is about to go your separate way, your thoughts about this happy, united group may indeed become a delightful memory. While looking forward, with great anticipation, to the many days to come, you will treasure those past days as prized possessions always giving praise to those who helped to make your high school training a reality. It is my sincere hope that the future of each graduate will reflect great credit upon his home, his school, and his country.

As you approach your great day - commencement, be prepared to face the future with a determination to prove that you can make those moral and social adjustments which will make you worthy citizens in our society. By having faith, endurance, and a sincere desire to excel, surely SUCCESS will be yours.

"Success is failure turned inside out -
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt -
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit -
It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit."

Class History

The history of the class of 1964 is filled with so many dramatic and colorful scenes that it resembles a modern play.

These scenes all take place within the school building or in completely different locales.

As the curtain rises on Act I, the timid and curious Freshmen make many mistakes which furnish some bright comedy moments. The rapidly rising action shows the students that their lessons will interfere sadly with their enjoyment and leisure.

At the close of this act, tragedy seems imminent, as there is a desperate affair between the actors and the final examinations. But the students are finally able to come out victorious. The social and athletic activities do not allow somberness to predominate this act, as George Robertson, Richard Brown, and Norman Rider display their potential talents in the rugged game of football and Yancy Carrigan, Gloria Wright, Clifton Gordy, and Margaret Williams display their dramatic talents in "Love Hits Wilbur."

In Act II the young actors have acquired charm, an ease of manner, and a feeling of security in their new roles as Sophomores.

The actors are greatly inspired by the information which many professionals gave them on Career Day. This inspiration is shown by the diligent strives of the students to achieve their goals. These efforts seem worthwhile as Ronald Roxbury wins the Latin Key and Gloria Wright receives the Citizenship Award.

As Act III arrives, some of the actors have become more prominently into the spotlight. This prominence is shown by Mary Hayward, Frederick Nutter, Gwendolyn Morris, Jerrald Neal, Wanda Mitchell, and Constance Payne in the play, "Two Dates for Tonight"; Ronald Roxbury who attended the All State Orchestra in Frostburg, Maryland and represented our school on High School Challenge; Gloria Wright and Margaret Williams who became charter members of the National Honor Society; and Karen Taylor and Clifford Gordy who attended Girl's State and Boy's State. The highlight of this entire act, however, is the "Magic Moments" which we provided for the Seniors.

In Act IV, we, as Seniors are more mature and have acquired poise. We have grown fond of a cast, some of whom we regarded with little favor as the curtain rose on Act I.

The action is more rapid and more complicated than in preceding acts. There is more comedy than before and there are some delightful interpolations. We honor all of those who helped to make the Senior Play, "The Imaginary Invalid," and the Christmas program, "The Incarnate Word," successful. We hope that the members of the football and basketball teams will continue along the road to "Fame." We also applaud Eunice Lawrence for her glorious reign as Miss Salisbury High 1963-64.

As this act comes to a climax, we anticipate the finale with great anxiety and when we depart, we will have the faith and determination to win "leading roles in life."

Class Poem

SOLEMNLY AND RESPECTFULLY

We walk solemnly and respectfully as we leave these great halls
Yet our hearts will linger forever;
We've shared joys and sorrows within these sturdy walls,
And friendships that nothing can sever.

In our classes we were touched by the flame of learning,
Our future we owe to its light;
For this flame has left knowledge within us burning,
This we will use to continue our flight.

Our principal and instructors served well as our guides,
And brightened our dimly lit ways;
They taught us the meaning and value of pride
A stepping stone for success today.

We walk solemnly and respectfully as we leave these great halls
Where our parents, dear, entrusted our souls;
That we would see the light glowing from these walls,
And follow its beams to our goals.

Clifton Gordy--Margaret Williams

Our sponsors have always used their many years of experience to help us in planning and performing our many senior activities.

Senior Class Officers

The senior class officers are elected to lead the seniors in completing their many duties and responsibilities.

Class Song

Salisbury High, we leave you

We hate to, but we must

We love you so.

Time went by so swiftly

But time has done so much

For us we know;

We'll miss you so

But we must go

Our hearts are low today.

Teachers, friends, and classmates,

The time has finally come

For us to part.

You've inspired us greatly

For this you'll always stay

Within our heart;

You've shaped our lives

You've been our guides

God bless you and good-bye.

Chorus:

Other classes leave and forget, and forget

Their memories covered all in dust

The class of '64 won't forget, won't forget

We'll be back again; wait for us.

Constance Payne

The Class Will

We, the class of 1964, who are about to leave this institution of learning, full of wisdom, understanding, and the desire to seek higher education, being psychologically and physically sound, do hereby submit this as our final will and testament, renouncing former wills which we made during a time of periodic optimism.

Item: To the Junior Class

1. All the pleasure and knowledge which we have received during our high school days.
2. Our dignity and wisdom which we found essential to our success as Seniors.

Item: To the Sophomore Class

1. Patience to endure the ridiculing Juniors.
2. Eagerness to stay out of trouble.

Item: To the Freshman Class

1. Map of the school building to prevent them from getting lost.
2. Courage to ask the Juniors for directions.

Item: To the Principal

1. Fond memories of our years together.
2. Pride in our good deeds and achievements.

Item: To our Teachers

1. Our knowledge to be taught to other students.
2. A sense of humor to make school life bearable.

Item: To our Parents

1. All our love without which they cannot live.
2. Our appreciation for all their love, understanding, and patience.

Item: To next year's class President

1. Our president's ability to overcome all opposition.
2. Her ability to please both the faculty and the students.

Item: To all future students

1. All the talents which we used to gain recognition.
2. All the talents which we did not have time to use.

We do hereby name and appoint our class advisors as the executors of this our last will and testament.

In witness whereby, we, the class of 1964, have set our hand and seal on this 5th day of June in the year 1964.

"Honor Adorns the Honorable"

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society was organized at Salisbury High School in 1962. Twenty-three charter members were inducted into the chapter.

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors that students can have bestowed upon them at Salisbury High.

Juniors and Seniors are eligible for membership. Sophomores are selected on a trial basis for the remainder of the year.

Qualifications for membership are based on a scholarship average of 3.0 or higher for the year, leadership, character, and service.

The Honor Society is not an active club, but rather a group of students who have been given honorary distinction because of the good qualities which they possess.

"Education Comes From Responsibilities"

Monitorial System

The Salisbury High School Monitors were organized in 1954 under the direction of Mrs. Jeanette P. Chipman. The Monitors assist the administration in helping to carry out the regulations for passing on the halls. Monitors also assist during special school events. Mr. William C. Johnson is the advisor.

Future Teachers of America

Under the supervision of Miss Elaine Brown, the F.T.A. has been very active in creating more interest and exchanging ideas during the school year. There are many activities sponsored by the F.T.A.

"Music Stimulates Good Will"

Salisbury High School Band

The Salisbury High School Band is one of the best marching bands on the Eastern Shore. Its unique marching maneuvers has enabled the band to win many awards in Maryland and Delaware. It has given numerous concerts and television performances during the year.

Salisbury High School Jr. Band

The 85 member Junior Band performs at all athletic events at school. They also perform for P.T.A. and assembly programs.

"Music Is the Eye of the Ear"

Salisbury High School Chorus

The Salisbury High School Choir has won the acclaim of being one of the Eastern Shore's most outstanding chorus groups. This reputation has been won chiefly through competitive performances as well as a major contribution to the Community Concerts, television, radio and the school's special programs. The choir has increased its membership to 63 voices over the past two years. Mr. William Neal is director of the Choir.

Salisbury High School Jr. Chorus

The Junior Chorus is an elective ensemble desirous to develop the students musical talents and abilities. The music education program is designed to increase musical skills and understandings. Through this activity the student feels aesthetical, emotional, intellectual, and social gratification.

Dear Mom and Dad,

Because your boundless toils and unselfish devotion have helped us to survive the hardships of our high school days, we wish to express our love and thanks to you.

Although we know that you can never be repaid for your patience and understanding, we deeply offer our affection and appreciation.

Library Assistants

Student library assistants render an invaluable service to our school library.

Volunteering their free time to serve as assistants, they perform such duties as filing, stacking and checking out books.

Cafeteria Staff

Our cafeteria workers are among the "unsung heroes" in our school, for what would a school be without a cafeteria and efficient people to manage it.

102 The cafeteria staff provides daily nutritious and attractive meals in a wholesome and friendly atmosphere.

Bus Drivers

Shown above are some of the capable bus drivers who share the responsibility of transporting our students to and from school.

Nurse

The nurse administers prompt and efficient service to the ill and injured.

Custodians

The custodians are responsible for the reputation our school enjoys for being attractive and well kept.

Senior Play Practice Session

One of the most important factors in the success of a play is the time spent in rehearsal. It is during this time that the director and cast get acquainted with the play, analyze the characters, locate the scenes, and plan the action.

The scenes below were taken during one of the many sessions that the cast of the senior play spent rehearsing for the presentation of "The Imaginary Invalid," a comedy in three acts.

The play, which was written by Moliere in a 17th century setting, concerned a cranky invalid who imagined that he had every type of illness from "apepsia to dropsy." His imaginary illness made him a gold mine for his unscrupulous doctor and druggist and dominated the lives of his entire family.

Clifton Gordy as Cleante and Ronald Roxbury as Thomas Daiforius vie for the hand of the fair Angelique, played by Marie Parsons. Cleante promises true love while Thomas offers his newly acquired Doctor's degree.

Yancy Carrigan as Argan and Leo Bateman as Monsieur Daiforius look on in hopes that the pre-arranged marriage for Thomas and Angelique will come to pass.

"Excerpts From Musical Presentations"

RANDOLPH L. BROOKS
PRINCIPAL

February 28, 1964

WILLIAM F. WALLER
VICE-PRINCIPAL

To Our Supporters:

This year we have fought a never-ending battle against discouragement and defeat as we have endeavored to produce this, The Beacon of 1964. Although we have been faced with these problems, we never let them overtake us. Instead, we used all of our efforts and endurance to make this yearbook one that we thought you would always remember and hold dear.

The staff offers many thanks to Mrs. Flora Daniels and Mrs. Gladys Goslee, our advisors, for their invaluable help; Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Chipman, and Mr. Brown, our sponsors, for their loyalty; and to Mr. Brooks, our principal, and Mr. Waller, our vice-principal, for their constant support and encouragement.

We are grateful to our photographer, Mr. Leon Sklar and to the Taylor Publishing Company.

A special thanks goes to our patrons and advertisers whose financial support made the publication of this yearbook possible.

We express our deepest gratitude to all of you and we hope that you will gain many fond memories from reading The Beacon.

Sincerely,

The Beacon Staff, 1964
